Dedication

DEDICATION

Dedicated to his work as assistant headmaster of the school, Colonel Donohue strives to make the Hun School one of the leading preparatory schools in the country. Beyond this, he acts as an inspiring force to all in the school. Refusing to falter in his high ideals, he drives hard toward realization of his firm beliefs.

As a teacher of mathematics, he is the best. Always encouraging, patient, and helpful to the slower student, he nevertheless keeps the brighter boys on their toes.

As administrator and discipline head the colonel is stern yet fair-minded. For this job he gets little praise and much criticism from the student. However, his motives and decisions reflect his deep concern for the welfare of the individual and the group.

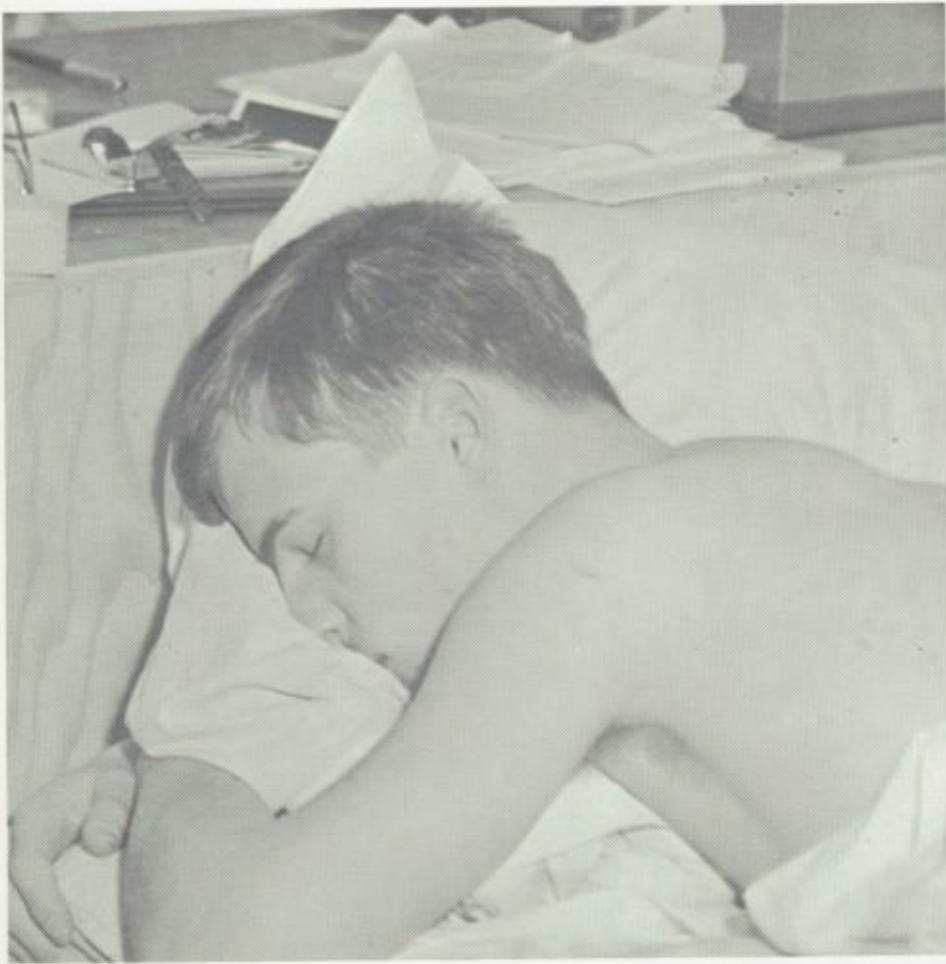

We will not soon forget the "long talks," the extra help in math before College Boards, nor the encouragements and congratulations given us by the Colonel. The school is his life, and he gives all of himself for its benefit, which is to say, for us.

With deepest respect and affection, we dedicate the 1959-60 Edgerstounian to Joseph Patrick Donohue.

The Day

"I'll just get 5 more minutes in —."

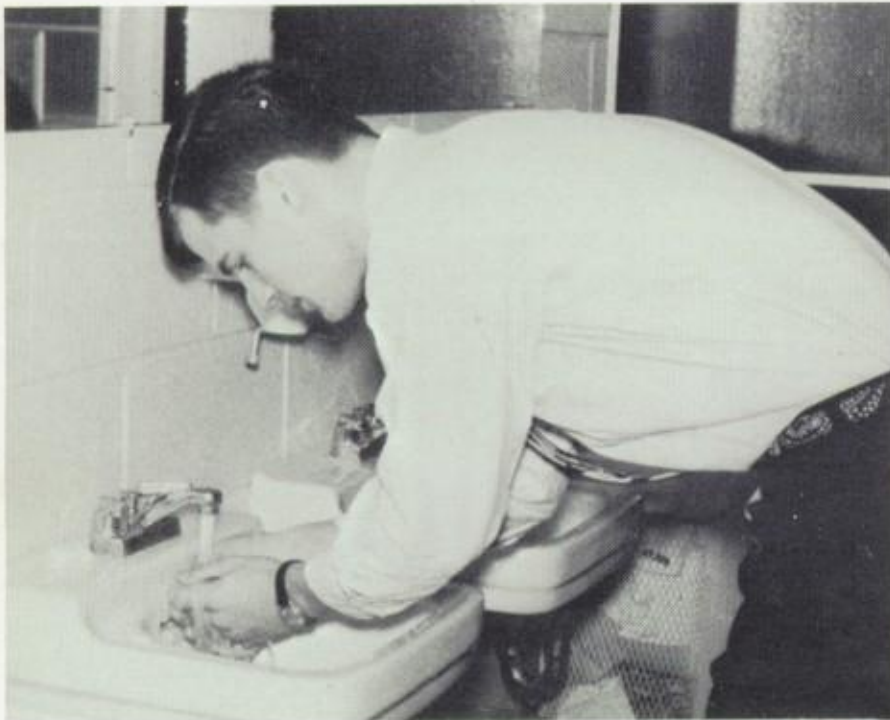

"It's too — early to get up."

"Should I wear a green tie with a blue shirt."

in the early morning before classes our activities center upon the upper campus: the dorm, the dining hall, and for some the smoker. here we yawn, wash, dress, eat, clean house, converse, and sometimes wrap up our preparation for the day's business in the classrooms below.

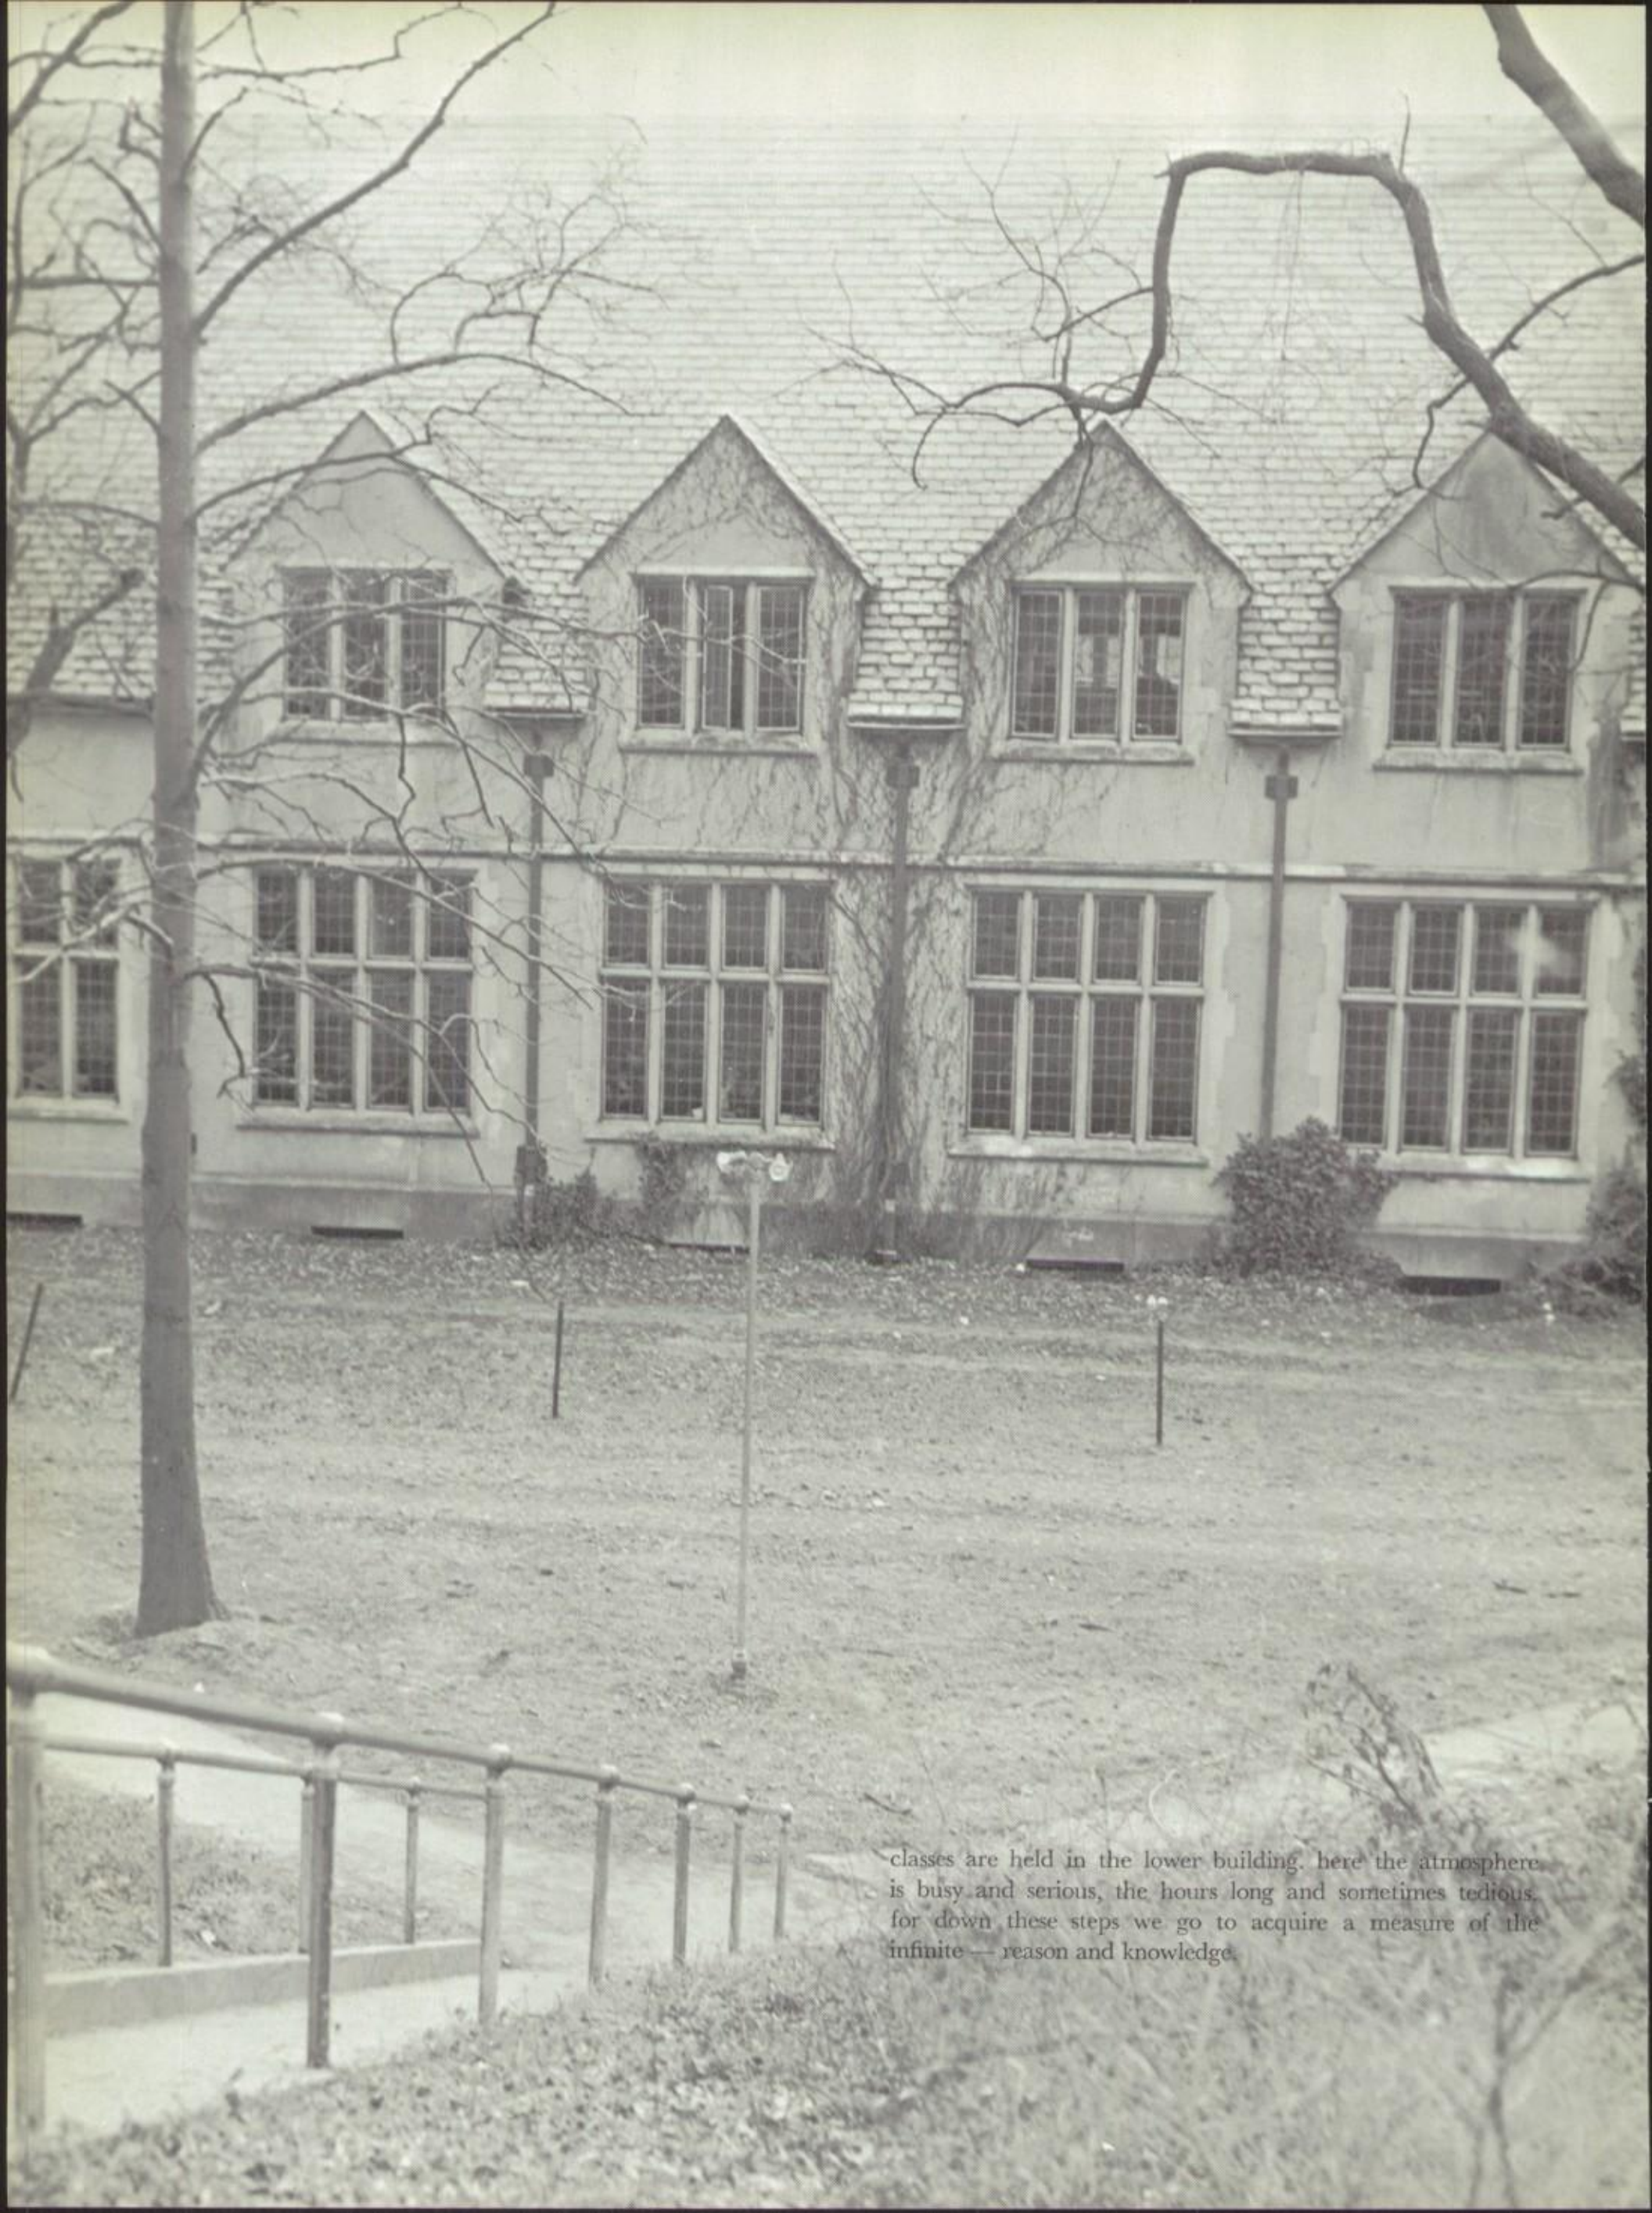

'How can everbody be soo happy soo early.'

"Just one more . . ."

"No comment"

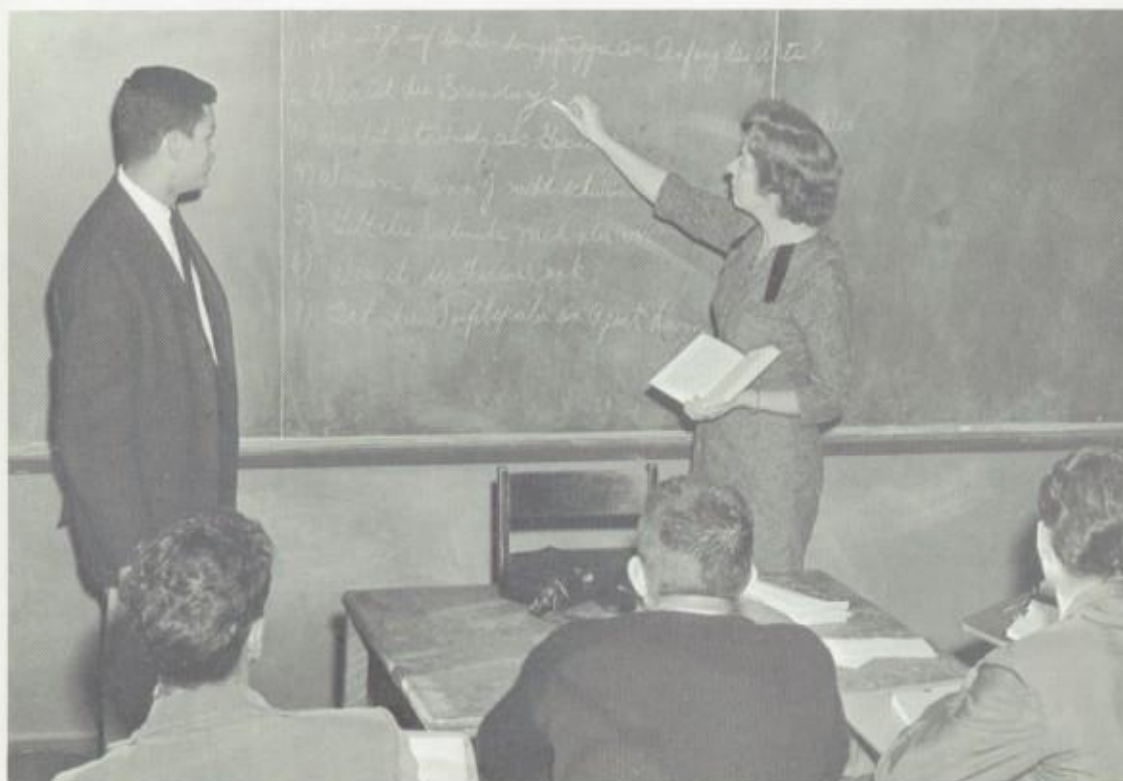

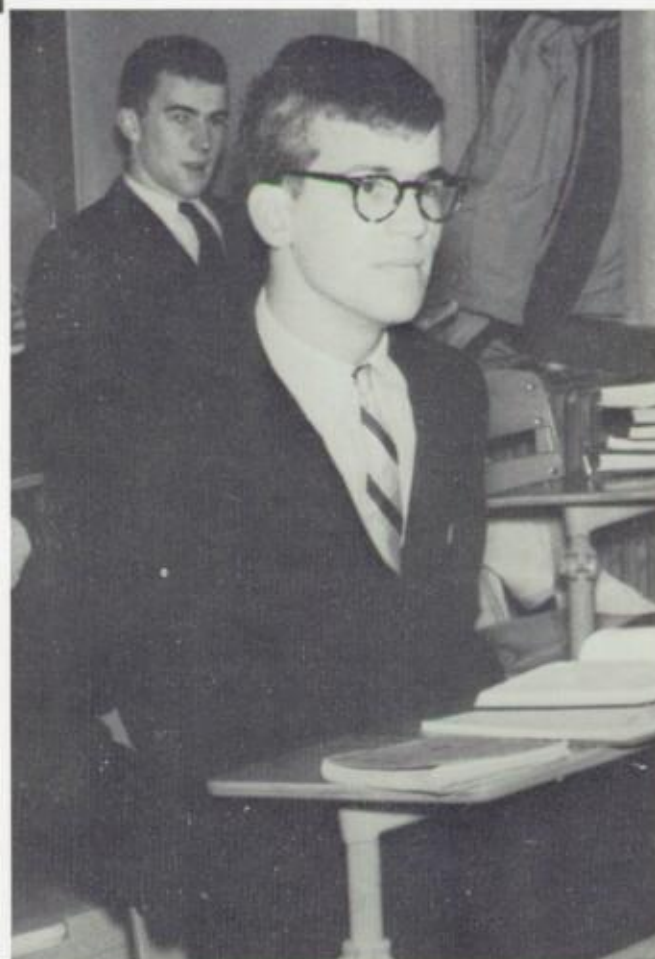

classes are held in the lower building. here the atmosphere is busy and serious, the hours long and sometimes tedious. for down these steps we go to acquire a measure of the infinite — reason and knowledge.

"The sun isn't even up yet."

"As easy as that, eh, sir?"

"If flash can't do it, how do you expect me to?"

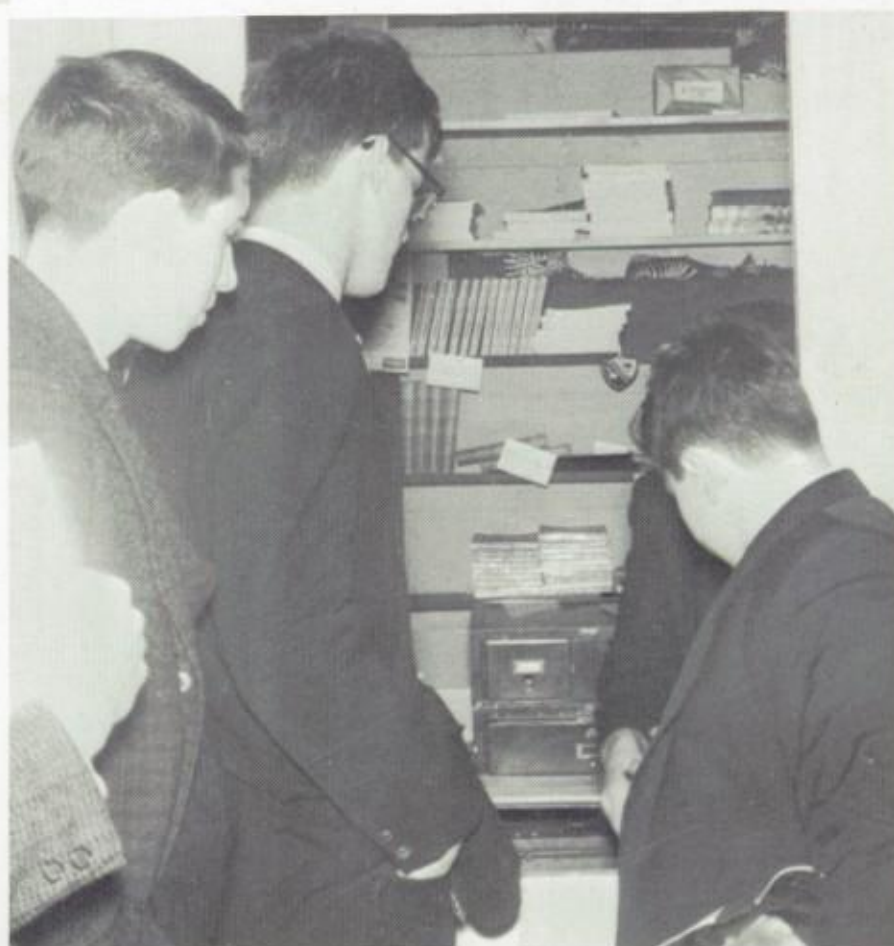

many of us pass this familiar scene on our way to lunch or the north dorm each day. to those of us living along concrete row, the "old building" has become but that part of our lives that consists of reading bulletins, checking out, receiving allowances, meeting visitors (female), and enjoying the library or recreation room.

"Good groceries"

"Come on, buddy, I've got big things to do."

"Hey, Ronnie, save some for me."

the bus is our bridge between school and pool, or gym, or lake. there, through the toil and sweat we purge ourselves of scholastic problems. or we flee from them in the chase of a ball on the fields at the foot of the classroom building. we merge our energies with those of our fellows in formations of football, soccer, basketball, baseball, or lacrosse. or we stroke an oar, a racquet, or a foil, perhaps only our arms and legs, at crew, tennis, fencing, swimming, or on the mat.

evening studies are integral with morning classes as the night follows the day. this is the time we work those problems, read that chapter, and write a theme — or dream (perhaps of tobacco in those manly pipes!) some of us, whose grades seem to warrant it, are on our own. for the rest it is “supervised study” under the eagle eye of a master.

Why can't I listen in class?

the end of but one day. yet each day adds to our knowledge, our growth, or our character. each day brings us closer to that day when we shall part with friends, classes, buildings, and school — wiser, we hope, more mature, more tolerant of others, more appreciative of learning and of life and of life's values.

Chess Club

Hun's Chess Club of sixteen members was under shaky auspices most of the year, since arrangements for meetings were usually indefinite. Chess meetings had to fit into the school's schedule when they would not interfere with such things as detention study hall, glee club, and sports. Nevertheless, most of the members managed to play the required one game a week.

A new chess ladder was introduced this year, but it required members to play more games than they could. Activities centered upon the Chess Team of five members who represented the school in the Delaware Valley Chess League.

Those of the Chess Club who played in the league were Guy Frindell, Bob Whaley, Ronnie Jakes, Dick Muller, Luis Costas, Robert M. Kaplan, Pete Spiller, and Abduhl Faisal.

Photography Club

With increased enthusiasm in making the Hun School darkroom a more pleasant place in which to work, Photography Club members, under the supervision of Señor Juan Lopez, accomplished much toward a successful year of photography.

Bruce Wolfe, Carroll Van Ness, and Fred Victoria built new equipment and repainted the cramped quarters.

Contributing to both the MALL and the EDGER-STOUNIAN, Hun photographers worked day and night, and even during the "wee small hours," doing their utmost to please all concerned, including themselves; very frequently, in the rush, they burned their hands with acetic acid, and very frequently were found in the darkroom at very embarrassing moments.

For next year, underclassmen hope for even better working conditions, and possibly a new darkroom.

The Cheerleaders

On a Thursday afternoon before our first football game, Mike Hedstrom was discussing our chances for the morrow's game. Later that day, Mike gathered a small group of boys and suggested that an attempt at cheerleading be made.

His words were "... Since we won't be on the field tomorrow, let's do all we can for the school and the team by cheering for them." As cheerleaders, we have kept this in mind ever since. The primary purpose of the cheerleaders is: To help spirit a team to victory, whether it be on the field, or on the court, or in a boat.

As cheerleaders, we think we have helped school spirit immeasurably, and we hope the spirit of the club will be carried on through the years by other classes.

Glee Club

The 1959-60 Glee Club has grown to a size unheard of at the Hun School. Under the versatile and talented leadership of Mr. Kelsall (not to mention the assistance of the Mrs.), Glee Club members enjoyed their best year, with many "concert tours," recitals, and related social activities. Parents, listeners, and members themselves agreed that this was the year a dramatic improvement took place.

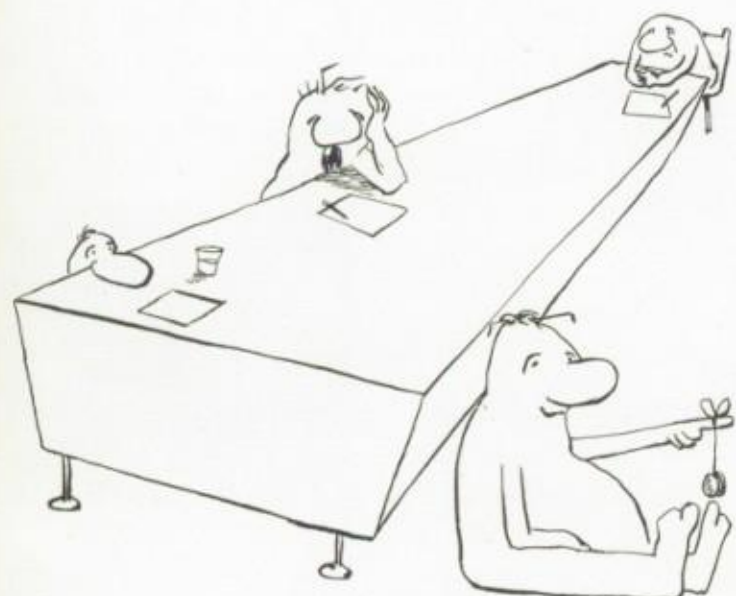

Mr. Kelsall also contributed his services and talent to the instruction of the "Octet," which actually consisted of about a dozen of the better members.

With so successful a year behind, the glee club looks forward to still greater success ahead.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

This year was a year not many will forget, for it was year of changes in school life. The Student Council, as a unit, reflected these changes.

To be sure, this council, like the many before it, performed the ordinary duties; It handled student contributions to charities, sent get-well cards and flowers, and dispatched sympathetic and congratulatory correspondence. Council members also officiated at class meetings and daily assemblies; yet, even here, there was a change, for President John Reed found it necessary to use a microphone in order to reach the one hundred and eighty sixth student at the rear of the dining hall.

The Student Council of 1960 will be most remembered, however, for its reversals of previously customary form. Council President John Reed, fiery, dramatic, and articulate, joined with calm, tireless, diplomatic Pete Clark, the vice-president, to provide the Council with the diversified leadership needed to "get things done." They were aided by their advisor, Mr. Thomas Wertenbaker, who sometimes told them not only what they might or might not do, but also how to do it.

Above all others, 1960's Student Council had two major achievements to its credit. First, the Student Council was able to reverse a dangerous trend of carelessness, malicious mischief, and downright vandalism most prevalent in the gameroom and its environs, but evident elsewhere. The "Paddy" committee, manned by President Reed, did much in this regard. In addition, considerable work was done by the Game Room Committee, under the chairmanship of Peter Clark and advised by Mr. Donaldson, to make conditions in the basement more conducive to legitimate recreation.

The second major accomplishment of the Student Council of 1960 was the development and presentation to the Student Body a plan for an Honor System at the Hun School. The Council was able to simplify the problems encountered in 1959, when the idea of such a plan was first advanced.

This year's Student Council has benefited both the school and the institution of student government. We sincerely hope it has set a good example and a precedent for Student Councils in the future.

THE MALL

The scholastic year of 1959-60 was one of many changes in all aspects of Hun School life. The Mall, in echoing the general trend, was likewise not without changes. Perhaps the most noticeable were the physical ones. The previous glossy paper gave way to newsprint. Better pictures were evident, and a more modern masthead was devised.

The purposes of a preparatory school newspaper are to inform the students and to represent their views. The 1959-60 Mall staff attempted to fulfill both of these purposes through features, news, and editorials. Features included such subjects as the Academic Department, individual Senior candidi, and social events. The student body was able to express its views through letters to the editor, and the "Cross-section Comment" feature. Likewise, the news department reported on many timely and unpublicized subjects. Mall editorials exemplified both student opinion and the multitude of pressing problems concerning Hun School life.

This year's editors, Marc Efron (editor-in-chief), Paul Steiger (associate editor), Lou D'Ambrosio (sports editor), Bruce Wolfe (photography editor), and John Keffer (business manager) attempted not only to cater to the wishes of the student body, but to keep, at the same time, a high standard of journalism. The results of their efforts can be seen in the awards won by the Mall, and in general acceptance by the student body.

Five Football Players Named All-Prep; Kadlic Named on Second-String Team

Hun School dominated the Newark News' selections for the all-state soccer team. Four Hun booters were selected on the first team and one on the second, according to Coach Thomas McNamara.

Lou D'Ambrosio, Khalid Faisal, Bender Faisal, and Jim Pietrinferno made the first team, while Pete Clark was on the second squad.

D'Ambrosio made the team as a halfback although he saw action also on the line. Retiring captain of the team, D'Ambrosio used his speed and a powerful kick to the team's advantage throughout the season.

Khalid Faisal raised his three season total scoring to 66 by getting 21 goals. Khalid, one of next year's co-captains, is a deceptive dribbler and has possibly the strongest kick on the team.

The other captain of the 1960 soccer team, Jim Pietrinferno, is a rugged halfback. Jim was injured halfway through the season and was unable to head the ball when he did play because of a concussion. Pietrinferno compensated for this with his footwork.

Hun's right wing, Bender Faisal, assisted Khalid in many of his goals. Like Khalid, Bender is a skillful dribbler and has an excellent kick. In tight games Bender was used for goal kicks because of his precision kicking.

Pete Clark, a fullback, prevented many opponent goals this season by placing his kicking skill between the net and the ball.

Selected to the All-Prep School Second Team by The Trentonian was Paul Kadlic, while honorable mention was given to Alex Cameron, John Ward Dave, and Pete Savidge.

Edgerstounian

Although this is bad form and bad ethics like most of the yearbook, I would like to generalize; the staff of the Edgerstounian this year had a ball. We got out of athletics when we wanted to (the vague excuse that we were working on the yearbook was all we needed), we slept when we wanted to (which was most of the time), and the rest of the time we complained about our inefficient colleagues, high prices, tyrannical and insensitive advisor, or the negligence of the publisher. In the end we turned a quarter of a ton of copy and photographs over to Mr. Wertenbaker to sort out and correct as he chose and went to bed.

Credit must be given, however, even where it is not due. My associate editor was an indefatigable worker, at times sitting up half the night giving birth to an idea. Ronnie, (for that is his name) had a roommate, Ted, who was also an editor. Ted reports that he once woke up and saw Ronnie tossing and turning; he was mumbling, "What can I put on page 35?"

Now that we have gone to press, the strain is off Ronnie, Don, Ted, Bruce, and the rest of the gang. I think we accomplished our purpose. We worked in a good theme (it escapes me for the moment) and balanced our budget. We expect next year's Edgerstounian to maintain our tradition — that of picking (or being picked by) a derelict, deficient, and generally depraved staff.

Athletic Improvements

The period from 1957—60 has been one of rapid improvement and growth for the Hun School athletic program. While winning teams have not been too frequent, the various teams have been growing stronger and more respected, and a greater variety of sports has been offered the student body. Some have argued that fewer sports would improve our record, but the school's philosophy — "Athletics for every boy" — and the individual tastes and differences of democratic youth demand a wide variety of sports.

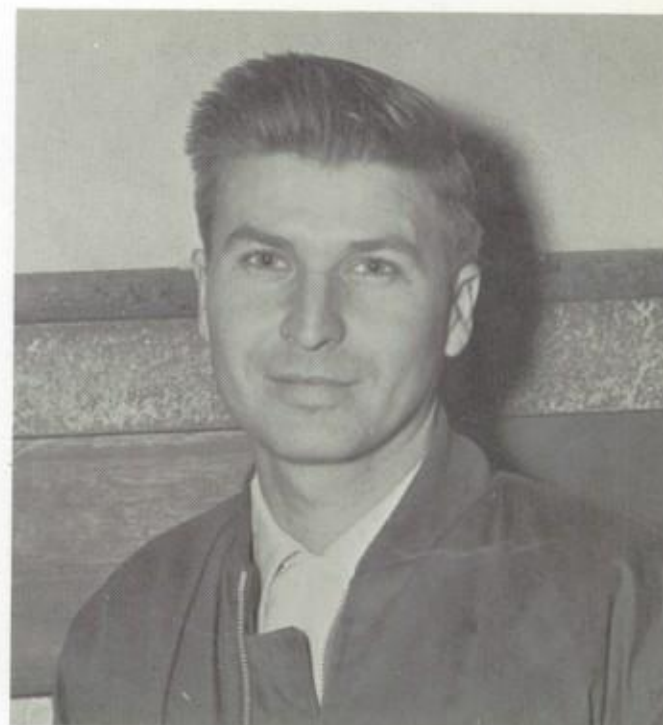

In the past four years lacrosse, fencing, and wrestling have become varsity sports, and this year swimming has been introduced on a pre-varsity level. Lacrosse has been admitted to the Interstate Lacrosse Conference, and basketball admitted to the Penn-Jersey Conference. J.V. football and soccer have become a permanent reality.

Highlights of the past four years include: having the Schoolboy Nationals in Princeton with Hun as the host crew, placing fifth in the 1957 Nationals, winning second place in the 1958 Small Schools Basketball Tournament, collecting two firsts, two seconds, and two thirds in the short span that the school has entered the New Jersey Private Schools Wrestling Tournament, achieving a truly winning season in football last year for the first time since 1951, and dominating all-star soccer teams among New Jersey prep schools in 1959.

The most notable material gains of the past four years for the athletic department are: the six new hardsurfaced tennis courts, two new playing fields, and a new shell for crew.

To help govern and direct the athletic program, a qualified athletic director has been hired; to decide athletic policy, a faculty athletic committee has been formed; to suggest improvements in the athletic program, the Athletic Council composed of team captains and the Varsity club has been created. Some of the ideas of these various groups have been realized in an expanded intramural program, the introduction of Saturday night athletic events, a new type of letter award, and standardized requirements for earning a letter.

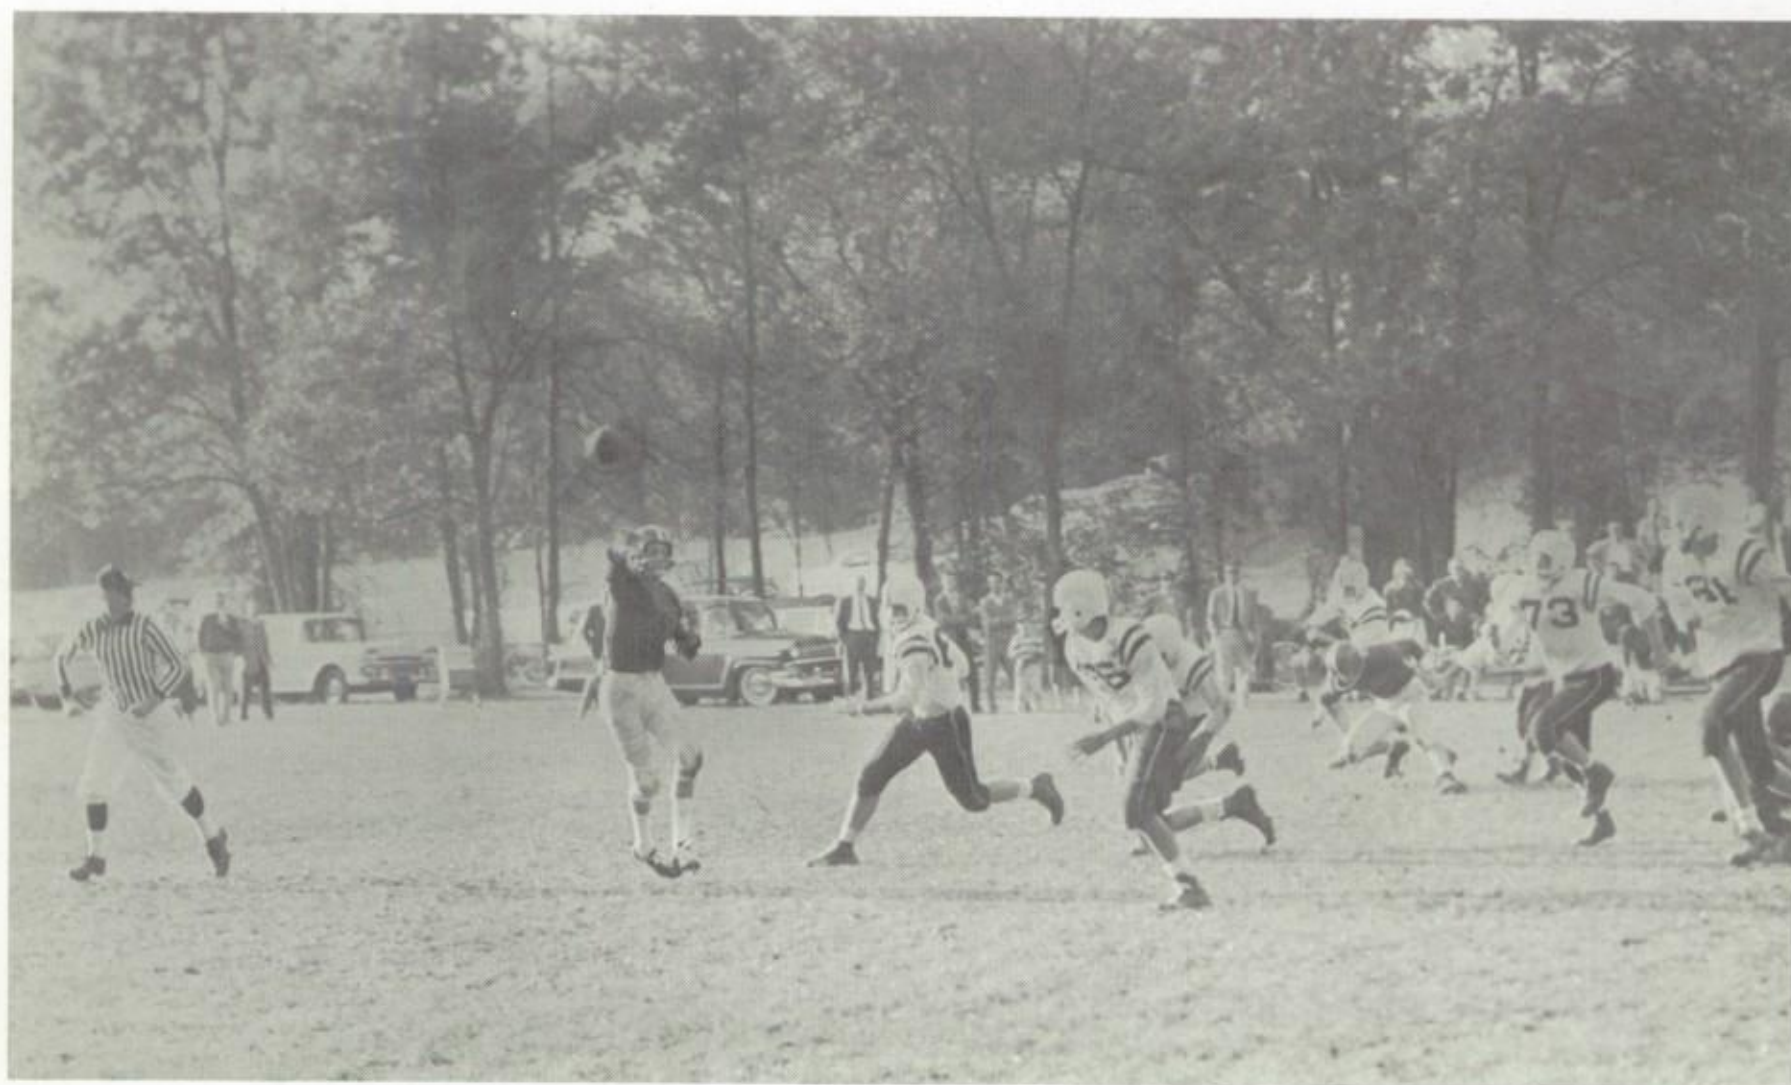

When one looks at Hun's athletic future, it seems bright. Every year more of its coaches are full-time members of the faculty. Our much-needed gym is foremost in the development plans of the school.

Mr. Waterman

No longer are our teams composed primarily post-graduate students. Today's teams are truly student manned — perhaps not always as strong — but more unified and more spirited.

Varsity Football

1959 was a disappointing season for the Hun gridders, a year in which injuries and hard luck treated the Red Raiders harshly. The prospect of having three members of the All-Delaware Valley first and second team returning along with twelve lettermen, plus a rise in the enrollment, looked encouraging. Mr. Waterman, the head coach, and Mr. Ball, the assistant coach, anticipated a successful campaign.

The first game against Pennington, in which the Johnny Huns were heavy favorites, turned out to be one of horror. Four of Hun's first-string players were not available to the team. (Injuries to Dave Savidge and John Ward had an even worse effect on the team as the season progressed.) Pennington scored four touchdowns and four extra points, while the Red and Black could manage only one touchdown. Hun's lone score resulted from an eighty yard run by Paul Kadlic and a ten yard end sweep by Gary Grover.

The Solebury encounter proved to be a more enjoyable affair as Kadlic scored three touchdowns and Grover clipped in with another T.D. The final score was 28-0.

Now with the team in high gear Kadlic scored sixteen points and Grover eight in a smashing victory over Germantown Friends. John Keffer accounted for a T.D. and Tom Johnson scored two more points in the 32-8 success.

With two straight victories under their belts the players journeyed to Wilmington, Delaware, to face the highly touted Tower Hill array. In this contest Hun's offense was completely stopped by one of the toughest defenses in prep school competition. The final outcome was a 28-0 whitewash for Hun and the first of four straight losses. Friends Central shut out Hun 14-0 and George School squeezed by with a 12-8 decision, the only tally for the Red and Black being the result of a seventy-three yard pass play from Kadlic to Pat Donohue. John Keffer followed through with a P.A.T., good for two markers.

The final contest of the season was the finest game the '59 team played, a game in which a break here or there would have reversed the decision in Hun's favor. The first half ended 0-0, and the only T.D. scored was registered by Delbarton in the third period, making it 7-0. In the fourth the Raiders were on the march as the clock stopped the game, handing Hun its fifth defeat of the season against only two wins. Wait till next year!

Although the '59 J.V. football team did not have a very successful season, it received a great deal of experience for future years. After dropping three straight games, the J.V. gridders faced the Peddie squad. Led by Tom Johnson, who scored after a 65 yard run, the Hun team came out victorious, 13—0. The second T.D. was scored by Phil Le Boutillier after the recovery of a fumble on the Peddie 6-yd. line. The only other game of the season that the J.V. won was against Pennington Prep, 6—0. The lone touchdown was scored by Charlie LeFebure on a pass by Sandy Blain. Thus, the team completed the season with a total of two wins and five loses.

The Varsity coaches, Mr. Waterman and Mr. Ball, plan next year to fill the vacancies in the Varsity squad with such players as Tim Walsh, Tom Johnson, Sandy Blain, and Pete Spiller in the backfield and Marshall Waller, Bart Howley, Ross Speir, Thorn Watkins, and Robbie Whaley on the line.

Varsity Soccer

The 1959 fall season was one of great success for the Red and Black soccer team. Not only did it turn in a winning season, but also five of its members, Khalid Faisal, Bender Faisal, Lou D'Ambrosio, Jim Pietrinferno, and Pete Clark, were selected for All-State Soccer Teams. Khalid Faisal, highest scorer in the state with 21 goals, was also selected All-State by the Coaches Association, which includes both prep schools and public schools.

Although the team had eight returning Varsity men this year, it had little depth. The injuries of such stars as Jim Pietrinferno and Captain John Reed were a great loss to the team. Nevertheless, with the hard Arabian core, Abduhl, Bender, and Khalid Faisal, and such assets as Lew Wilson, Gary Rottenberg, Pete Clark, and Captain Lou D'Ambrosio, the team always managed to offer its rivals strong, and many times defeating, opposition.

To say that the team alone achieved success would be to tell only half the story, because a great deal of credit is due to the new coach, Mr. McNamara. "Mr. Mac" put his heart and soul into every game. Out of this evolved a firm desire to win and a spirit such as the team had never known.

With the exception of Pennington Prep, where Khalid Faisal scored his "Turban Trick" (5 goals). Hun's opponents this year were stronger than those in past years. Such games as Pennington High, B.M.I., Notre Dame, and Rider College were Hun's by only one goal. Pingry was another victim (3-1), and there was a tie with the powerful Princeton Frosh (2-2). Three of Hun's four losses this season came at the hands of Pennington High (3-6), Peddie (1-3), and George (1-2). Perhaps the most exciting was the game with our traditional rival, Lawrenceville. It was (traditionally) a rainy, muddy day, and both teams were tied 2-2 in the last quarter when, with but thirty seconds to go, the referee called a foul in Hun's penalty area, and Lawrenceville scored to win the game.

The outlook for the 1960 season with Captains Khalid Faisal and Jim Pietrinferno is very bright. Says Coach McNamara, "We will have ten varsity lettermen returning next year, three of whom are All-State. Considering the loss of first team members of other schools, our chances for winning the 1960 New Jersey State Prep School Championship are very good!"

J. V. Soccer

Coached by Mr. Juan Lopez, the J.V. Soccer team completed the 1959 season with a record of two wins and five losses. The high point of the season came on October 14 when Ronnie Jakes scored two goals to upset Peddie School 2—1. The team continued its winning ways as it swamped Pennington 3—0. John Fortunato scored twice and Marc Efron once.

Varsity coach McNamara showed considerable interest in the improvement of the team. With the Varsity squad being hit hard by graduation, many 1959 J.V. booters will advance to the Varsity. Backfield stalwarts Ed Halsey, Harry Ward, and Larry Greenfield are considered good prospects, as are linemen Marc Efron, Rick Gallaudet, and Bruce Wolfe.

Scrappy "Little Lou" scoring against Pennington

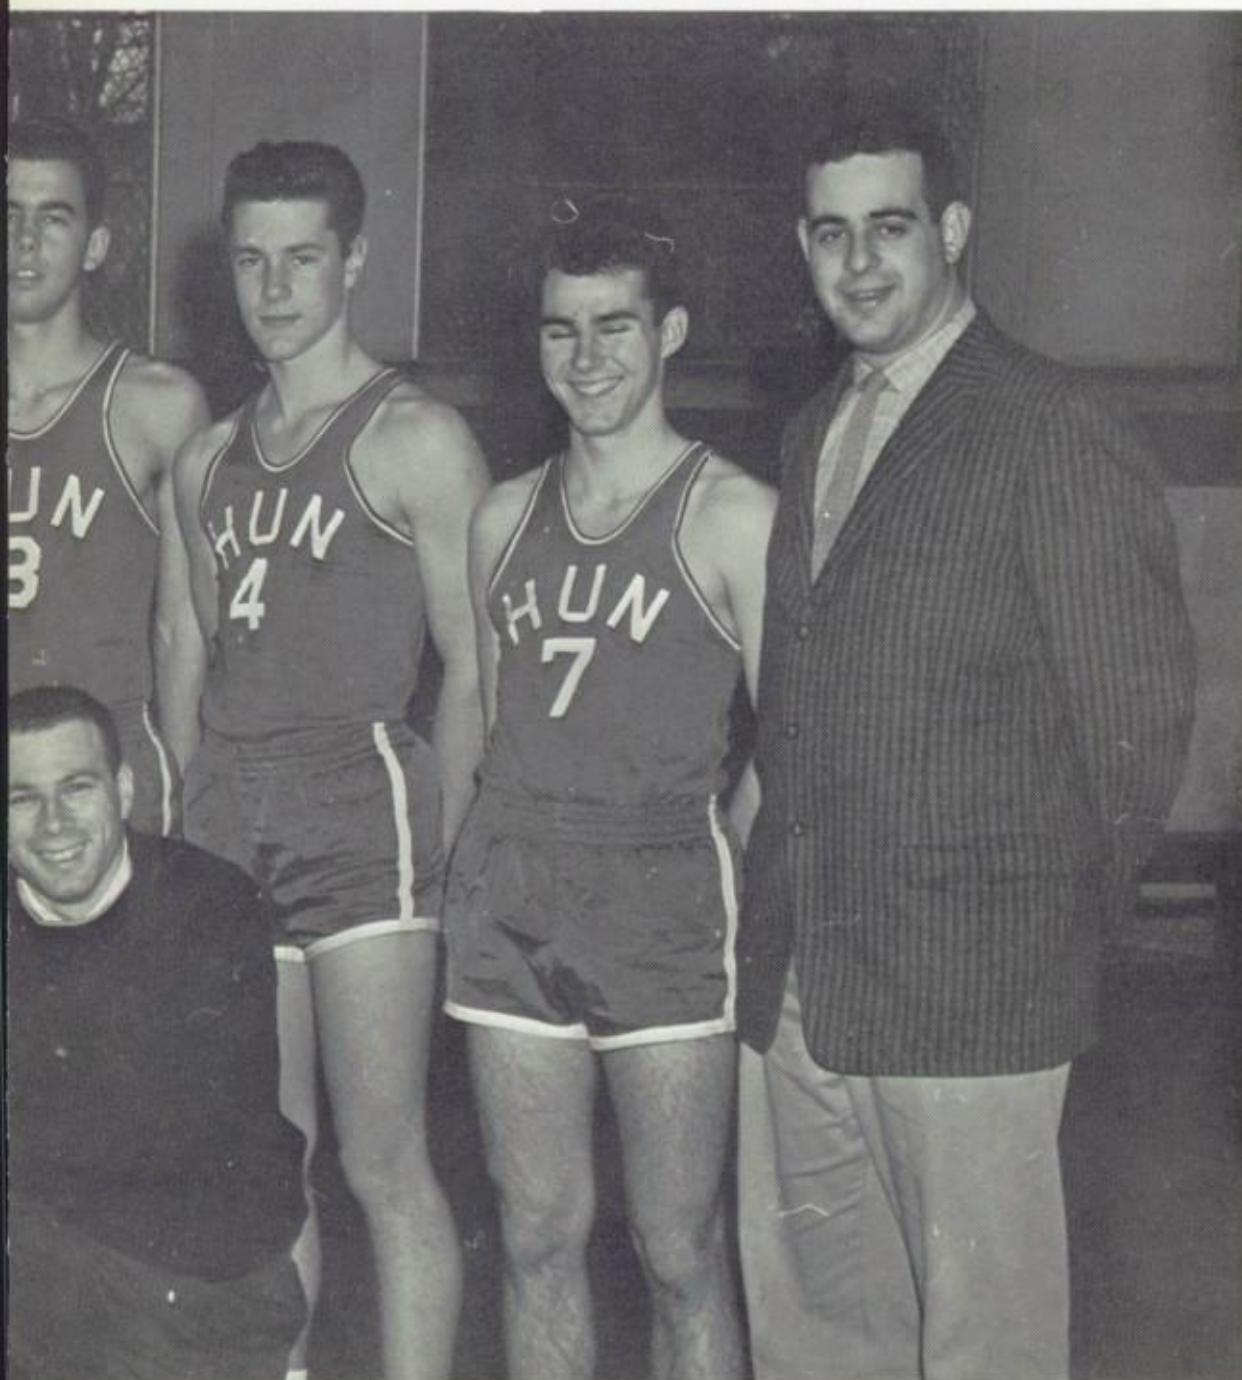

Hun's basketball team of 1959-60 was the finest and most successful team in the last ten years. This year it was invited to the New Jersey State tournament.

Coach George Selleck has developed a highly productive team. Below average in height, it was nevertheless one of the fastest. Billy Gilman and Lou D'Ambrosio were the speed demons. If Gilman was not scoring on a fast break, he was swishing them through the nets from anywhere outside the key.

Lou D'Ambrosio was captain of the squad, and a fine captain he proved. He was always hustling. In the scoring department, Lou was high man in many games. If he was not helping Gilman with the fast breaks, he was hitting with his jumper from the corner.

Dave Savidge was the man who pounded the boards. He is an excellent rebounder and defensive man. Dave has a nice one-hander and is excellent on the tap in. It is comforting to know we will have a player like Dave on the team next year.

Jay Maynell, who broke into the starting lineup after the first few games, became one of the most valuable men on the team. He seemed always to be in the right place at the right time. Jay, along with Dave, controlled the boards for the most part.

Paul Kadlic, who came out midway in the season, proved the most useful addition to the team. He rebounded, scored heavily, and hustled. Paul helped the team during many close games.

Bright prospects for next year are Al Landis, Tom Petrone, Jim Byer, and John Stewart, all of whom have seen much action this year.

J. V. Basketball

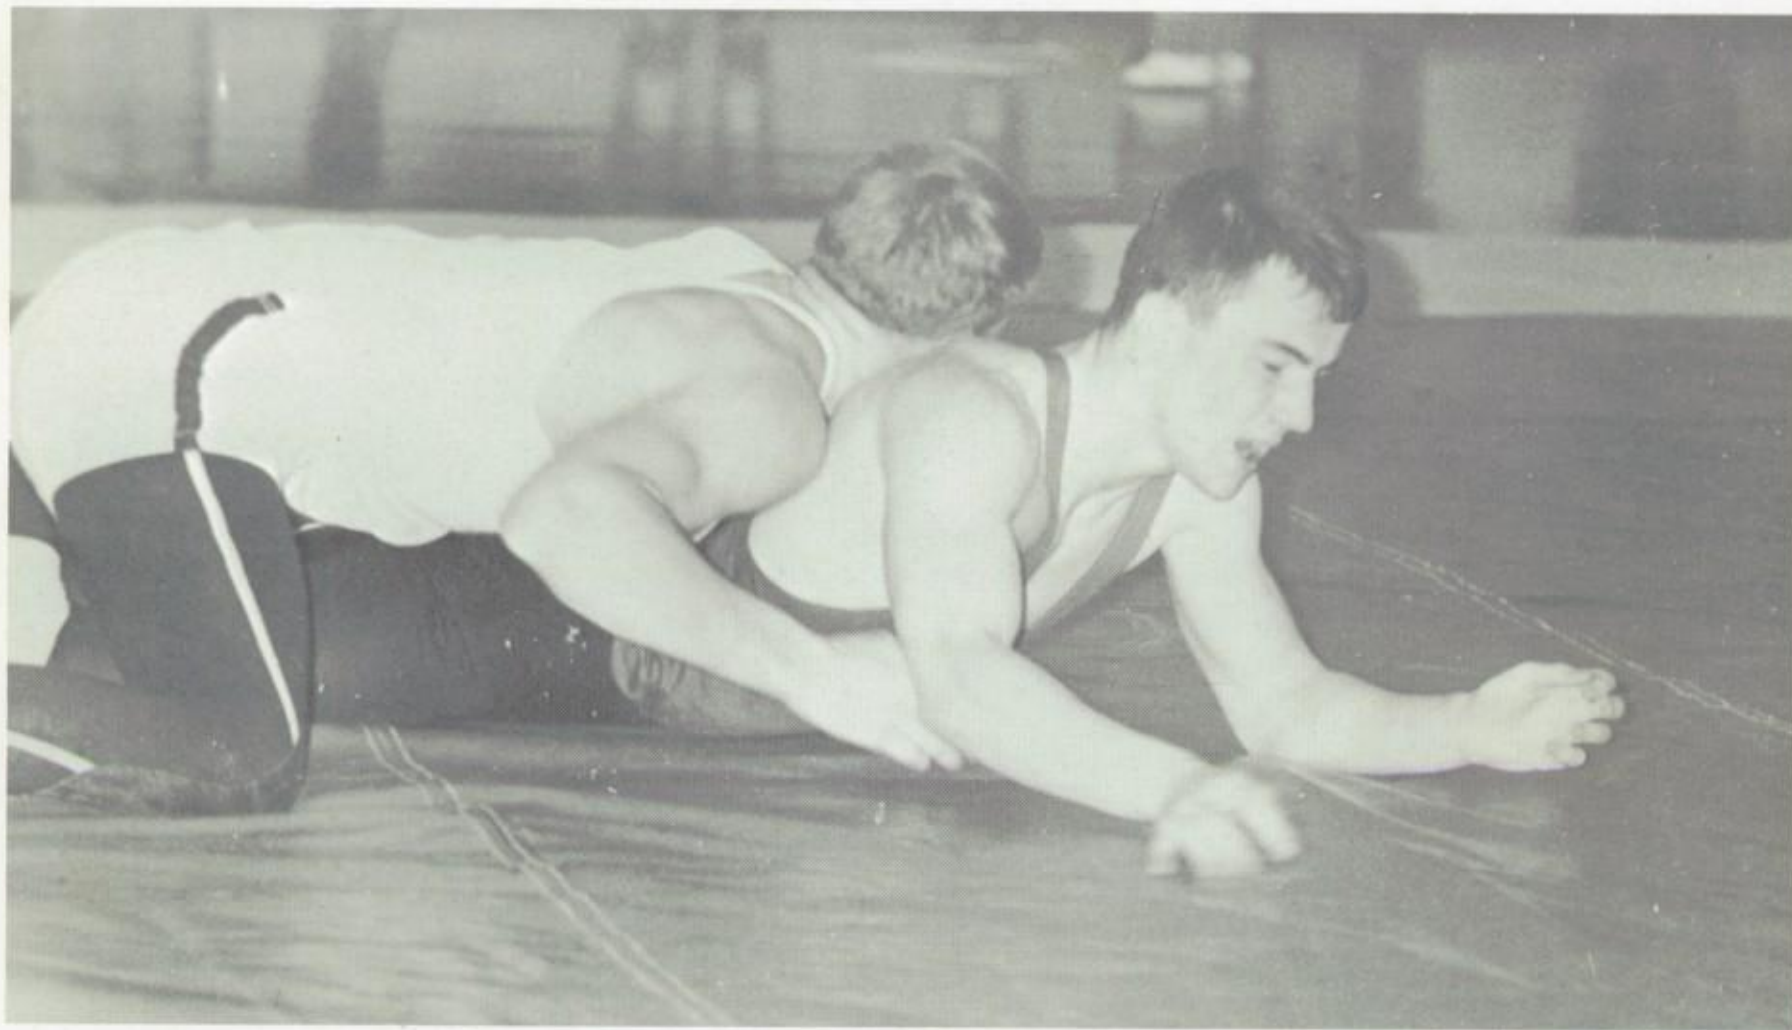

For the first time in many years, the J.V. Basketball team had a highly successful season. The many victories can be attributed largely to the teamwork developed by Mr. George Selleck.

The J.V. team has definitely fulfilled its purpose this year of preparing boys for the Varsity squad. Although the team was hurt by the loss of Jim Byer, who was promoted to the Varsity after his fine showing in the first two games, it was still able to maintain its excellent record. The team was sparked by the play-making ability of Chris Farley and Rob Kay, and the continual high scoring of John Stewart. Defensively, Jim Steiger and Lew Wilson did an excellent job of rebounding.

Next year, these J.V. players will reinforce the Varsity in positions formerly held by Seniors.

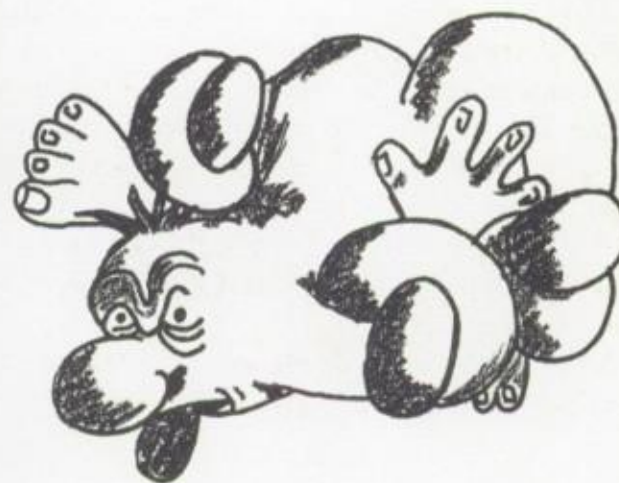

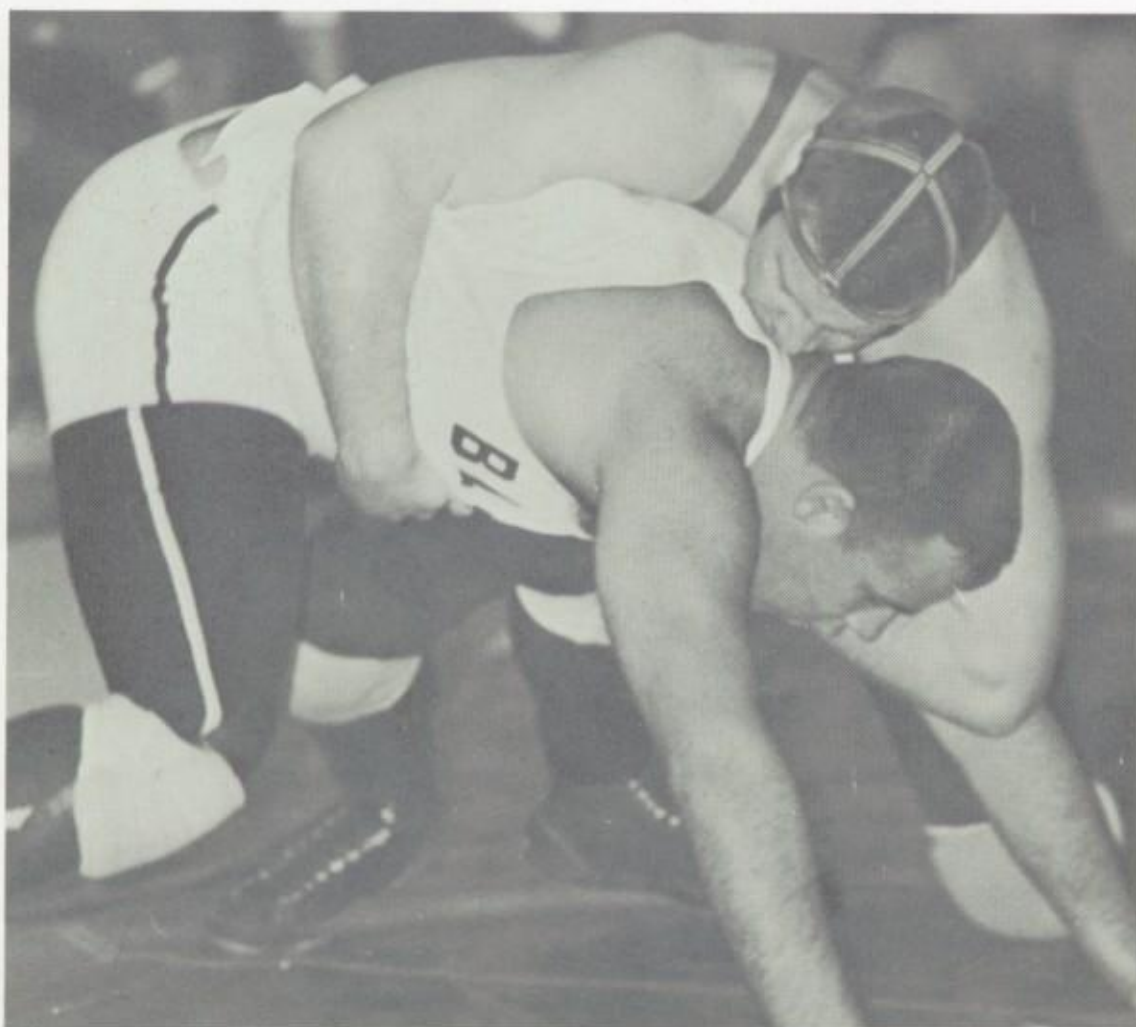

Wrestling

In the heavyweight division, standing up was useless against Captain Paul Savidge.

Wrestling

Wrestling entered its fourth season at Hun with seven of eleven weight classes berthed by lettermen. The squad shaped up with a flurry of exercises in training for the opener against Pingry. Revealing weaknesses in the lighter weight departments, our matmen dropped that one, 7 to 34.

After the holidays a foray into Pennsylvania met with tough opposition from a superior George School. Co-captain Keffer battled the George captain to a draw as our team was edged, 16 to 28.

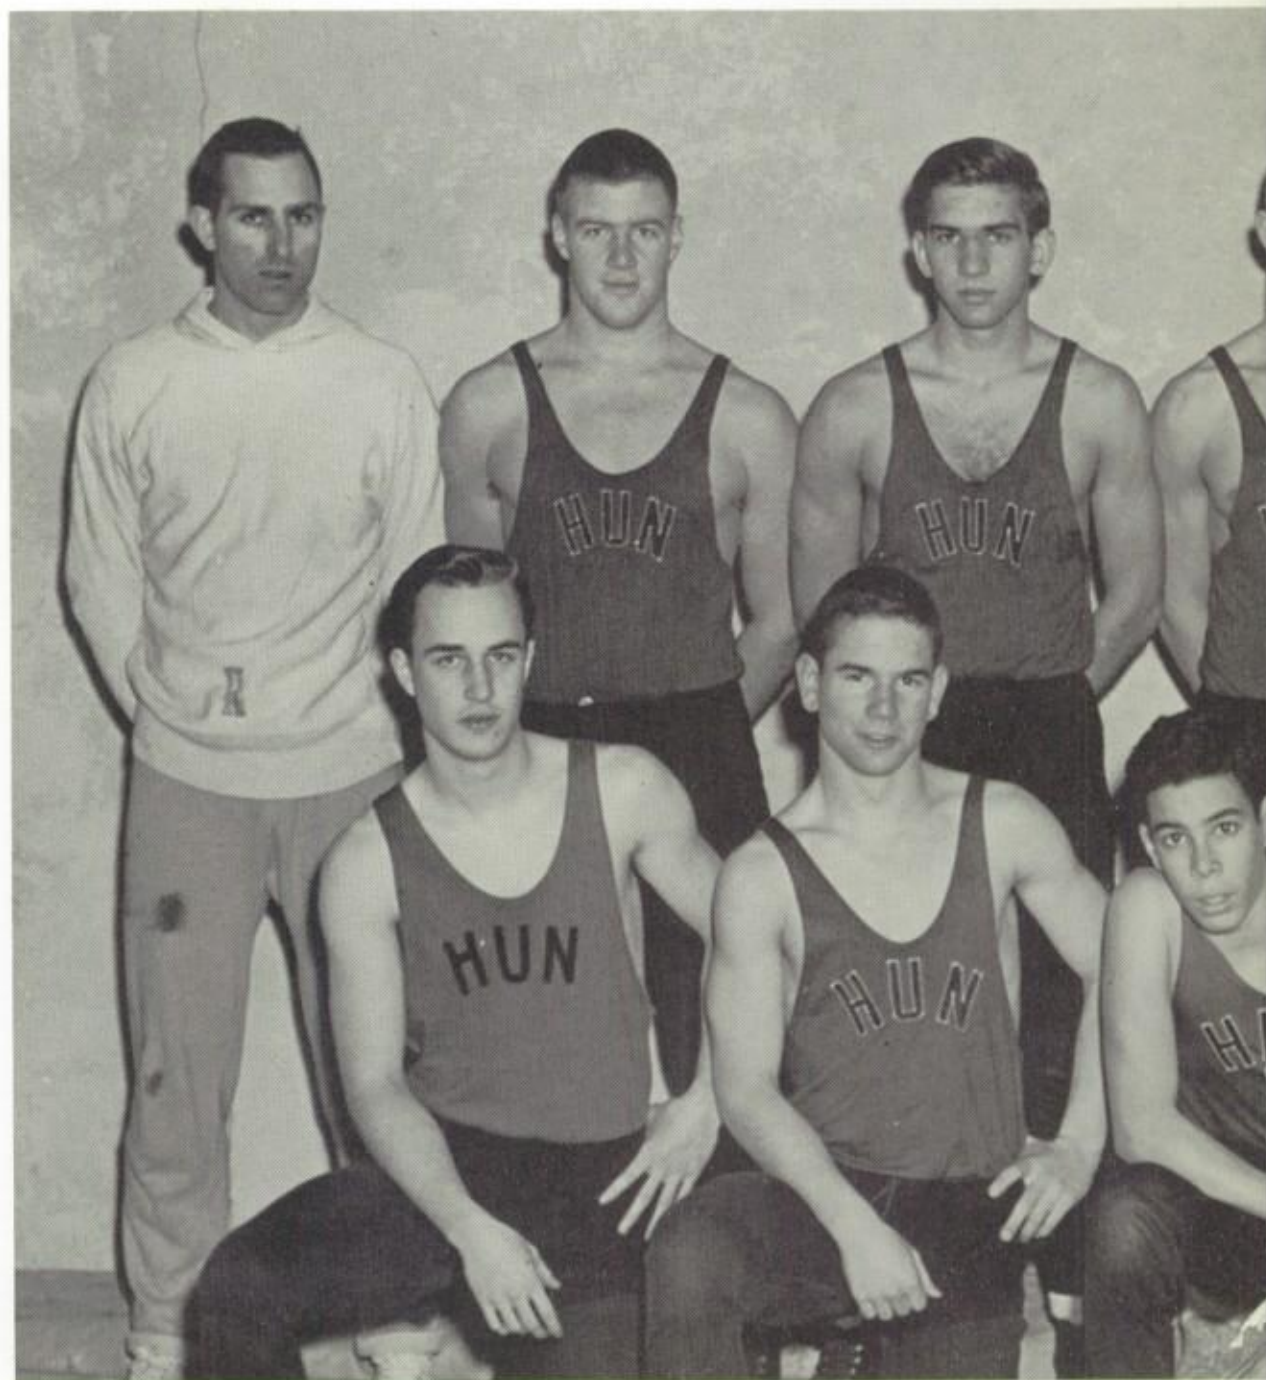

Hun's first win came on the icy shores of Tom's River as the Raiders took Admiral Faragut, 30 to 23. It was a toss-up until co-captain Paul Savidge pinned his man in the climactic bout. Every match, in fact, was a pin for one team or the other except Pat Donohue's 2-0 decision in the 147 pound class.

Although we dropped mid-winter matches to B.M.I., Peddie, St. Andrews, and Blair, we could usually count on wins by Chuck Smith, the Savidges, and newcomer Steve Rose. Highlights of the Blair contest were Keffer's second period pin of his opponent after a three week hiatus due to a knee injury, and John Ward's heroic 0-4 loss to his friend, Meinig, state champ and captain of the Bwair squad.

Keyed up for revenge of our football loss to Delbarton, the Hun grapplers (six of them pigskin veterans) were content to blank St. Bernards when the Delbarton match was cancelled. Eight of that contest's eleven pins occurred in the first minute of the first period to earn us a 55 to 0 score.

We dropped a close 17 to 20 engagement to Tower Hill but rebounded in an impressive triumph over Pennington, 39 to 6, to climax the regular season and propel us into the State Meet. Here we had hopes for individual honors in at least five divisions.

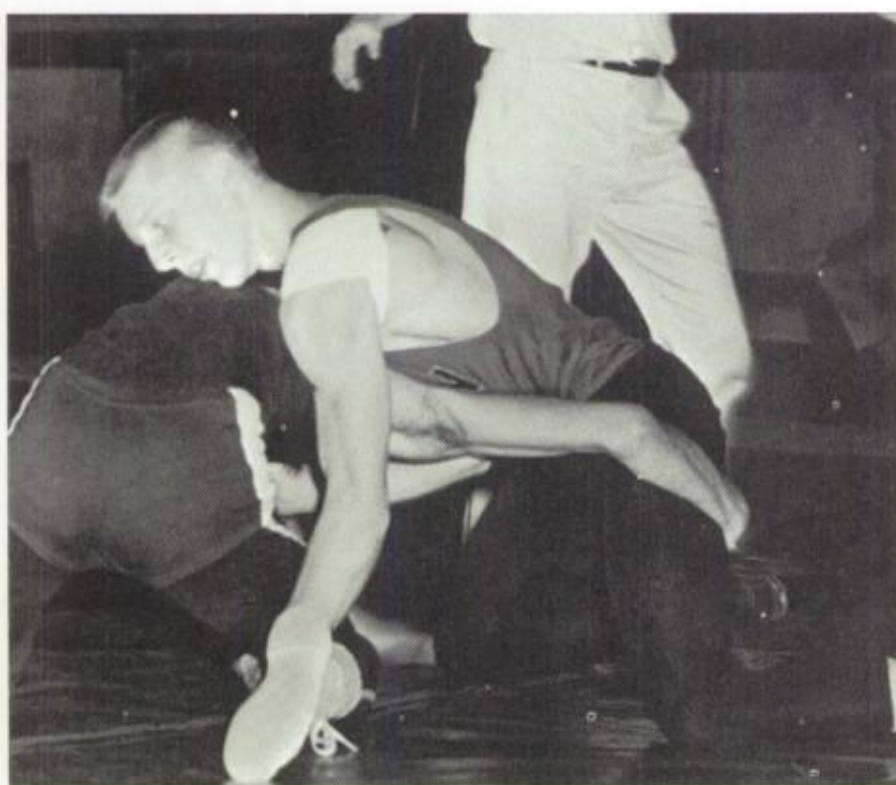

For a team perhaps not yet firmly entrenched in the hearts of its schoolmates, it was a season of many individual rewards, occasional team victories, and bright hopes shared by Coach Spencer for more brilliant seasons to come.

Although swimming and diving were not recognized as varsity sports by the athletic department, thirty boys took part in the program. Meets were held with Rutgers Prep, Pennington Prep, George School, Trenton H.S., Lawrenceville J.V., and Peddie J.V. Both swimming coach McNamara and diving mentor Ball were greatly satisfied with the progress of Hun's newest sports in these contests.

Four swimmers, Bill Zieg, Steve Rush, Phil Townley, and Hardy Knowlton, made particularly good showings throughout the season, as did Kim Kimble in diving. Each of these five, except Zieg and Knowlton, will return next year to lead their respective squads. Underclassmen Bruce Kantner, Marc Efron, John Pitney, Thorn Watkins, Harland Johnson, and Charley LeFebure rounded out this year's swimming team. Other divers who actively participated were Doug Kirk, Charles McGuire, and Pete Clark. Clark is the only senior of the three.

With this year's squad dominated by underclassmen, a highly successful first varsity season can be expected next year.

Great depth coupled with outstanding performances enabled the 1960 fencing team to compile a commendable record. Sparked by Captain Abdul Faisal, the team won repeatedly. Under the guidance of Coach Sieja, the hard work and unflagging spirit of each fencer was rewarded many times over.

Inaugurating the season with a tri-meet between Lawrenceville, Princeton University, and The Hun School, we emerged victorious, to set the prevailing trend. This, tempered sparingly with a few defeats in the earlier days of January and February, brought renewed vigor and effectiveness, with Abdul Faisal and Don Sieja as the team stalwarts.

The following year will bring with it five out of six returning lettermen and a new, squad-purchased electric foil scoring system, which will be a valuable training device as well as an indispensable implement for interscholastic competition.

JUNIOR CLASS

The 1959-60 Junior Class was the largest not only in size but also in achievement.

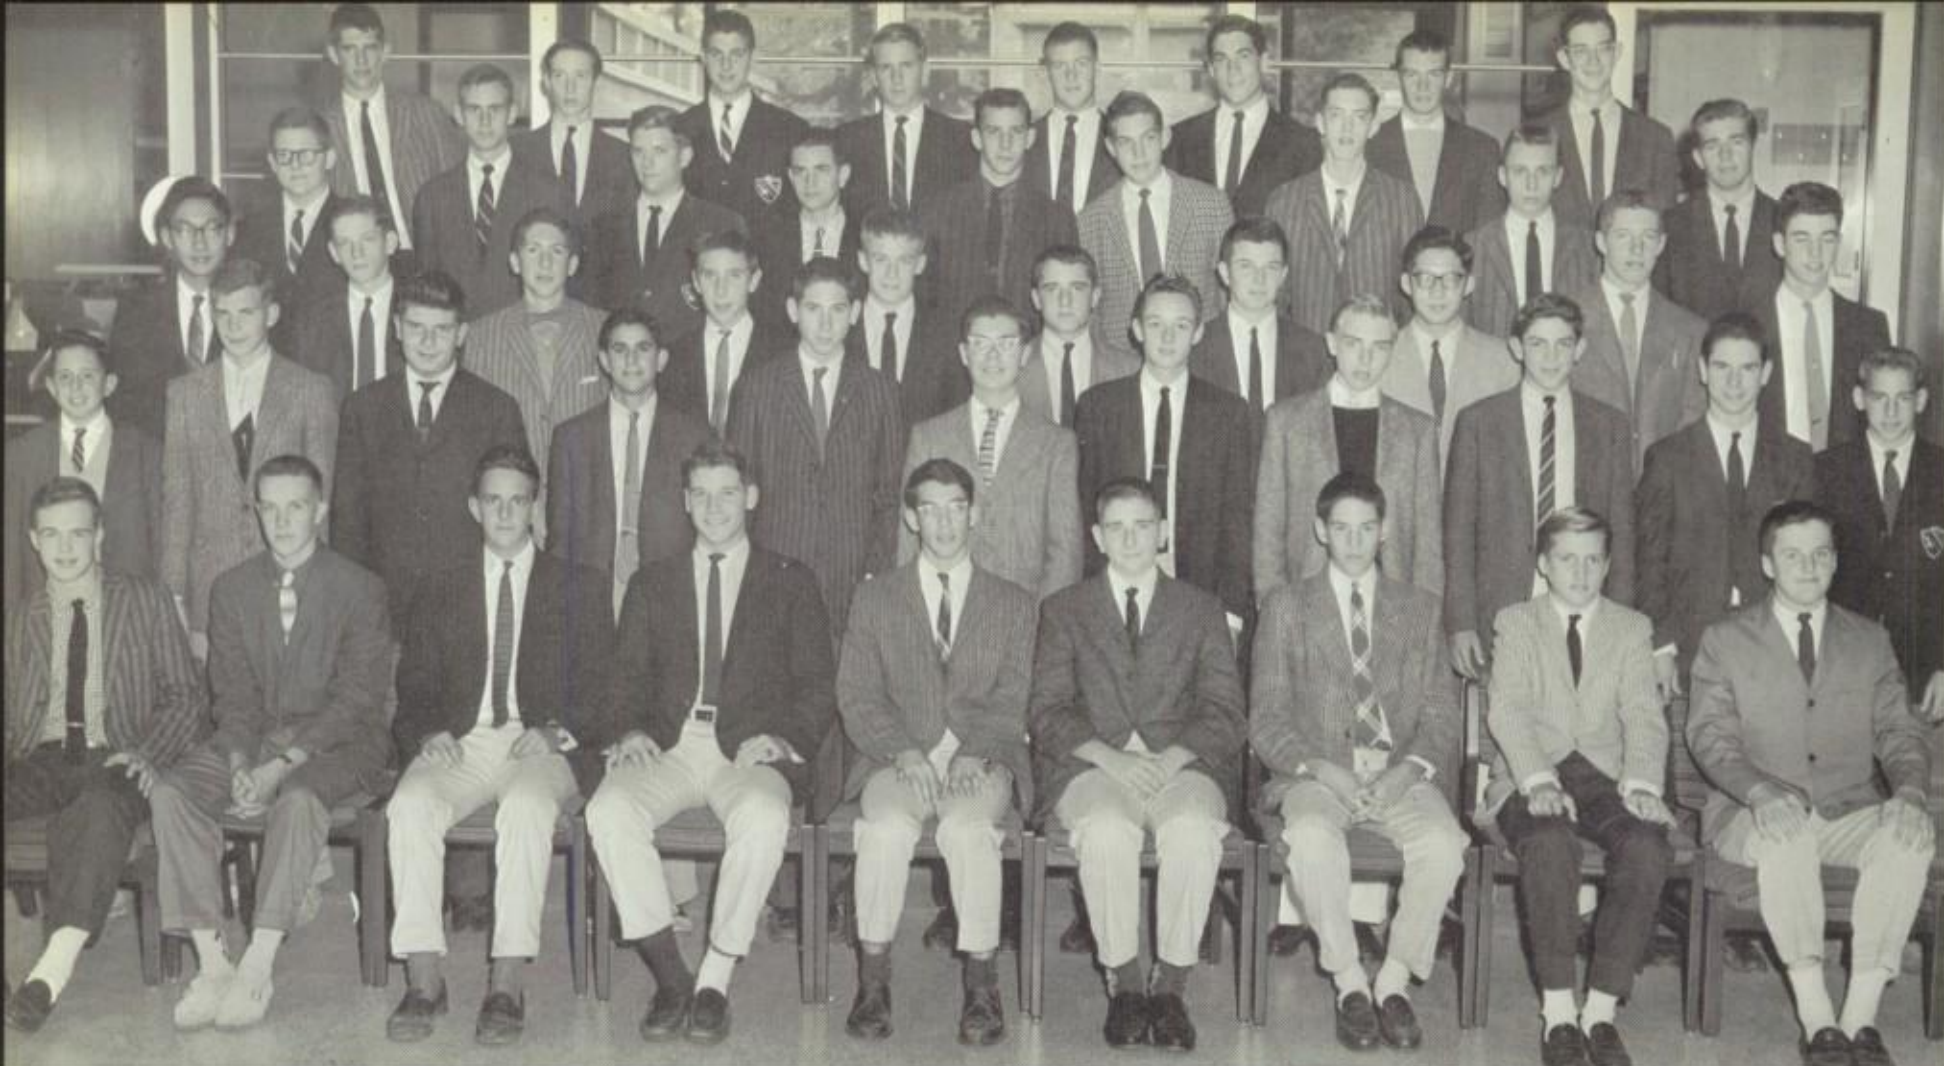

Academically, Rick Gallaudet, Lew Wilson, Marc Efron, Dave Savidge, Ross Speir, and Marshall Waller consistently led the Honor Roll.

On the extra-curricular scene, the Junior Class enthusiastically supported every function of the school. We were well-represented on the Mall staff headed by Marc Efron, who was editor-in-chief. Ross Speir served as sports editor of the EDGERSTOUNIAN. Other clubs which benefited from Junior participation were the Glee Club, Photography Club, and Chess Club.

Besides being academically inclined, we excelled in athletics. Al Landis, Jay Maynell, Dave Savidge, John Stewart, Dick Freemann, and Bob Kaplan spearheaded the football team. The highly successful soccer team owed many of its victories to Juniors Abdulrahman and Khalid Faisal, Lew Wilson, Jim Pietrinferno, and Chris Eggers. Starters Tom Petrone, Al Landis, Bill Gilman, and Dave Savidge sparked the basketball team. Ross Speir and Gary Rottenberg were the captains of crew and tennis, respectively.

The Junior Class, by virtue of its accomplishments, will undoubtedly be the strongest Senior Class Hun has ever had.

SOPHOMORES

During the past school year, what had been an ordinary Freshman Class led by a few exceptional students, evolved into a well-rounded Sophomore Class. Under the leadership of president Paul Savidge and vice-president Pete Spiller, we were prominent in every facet of school life.

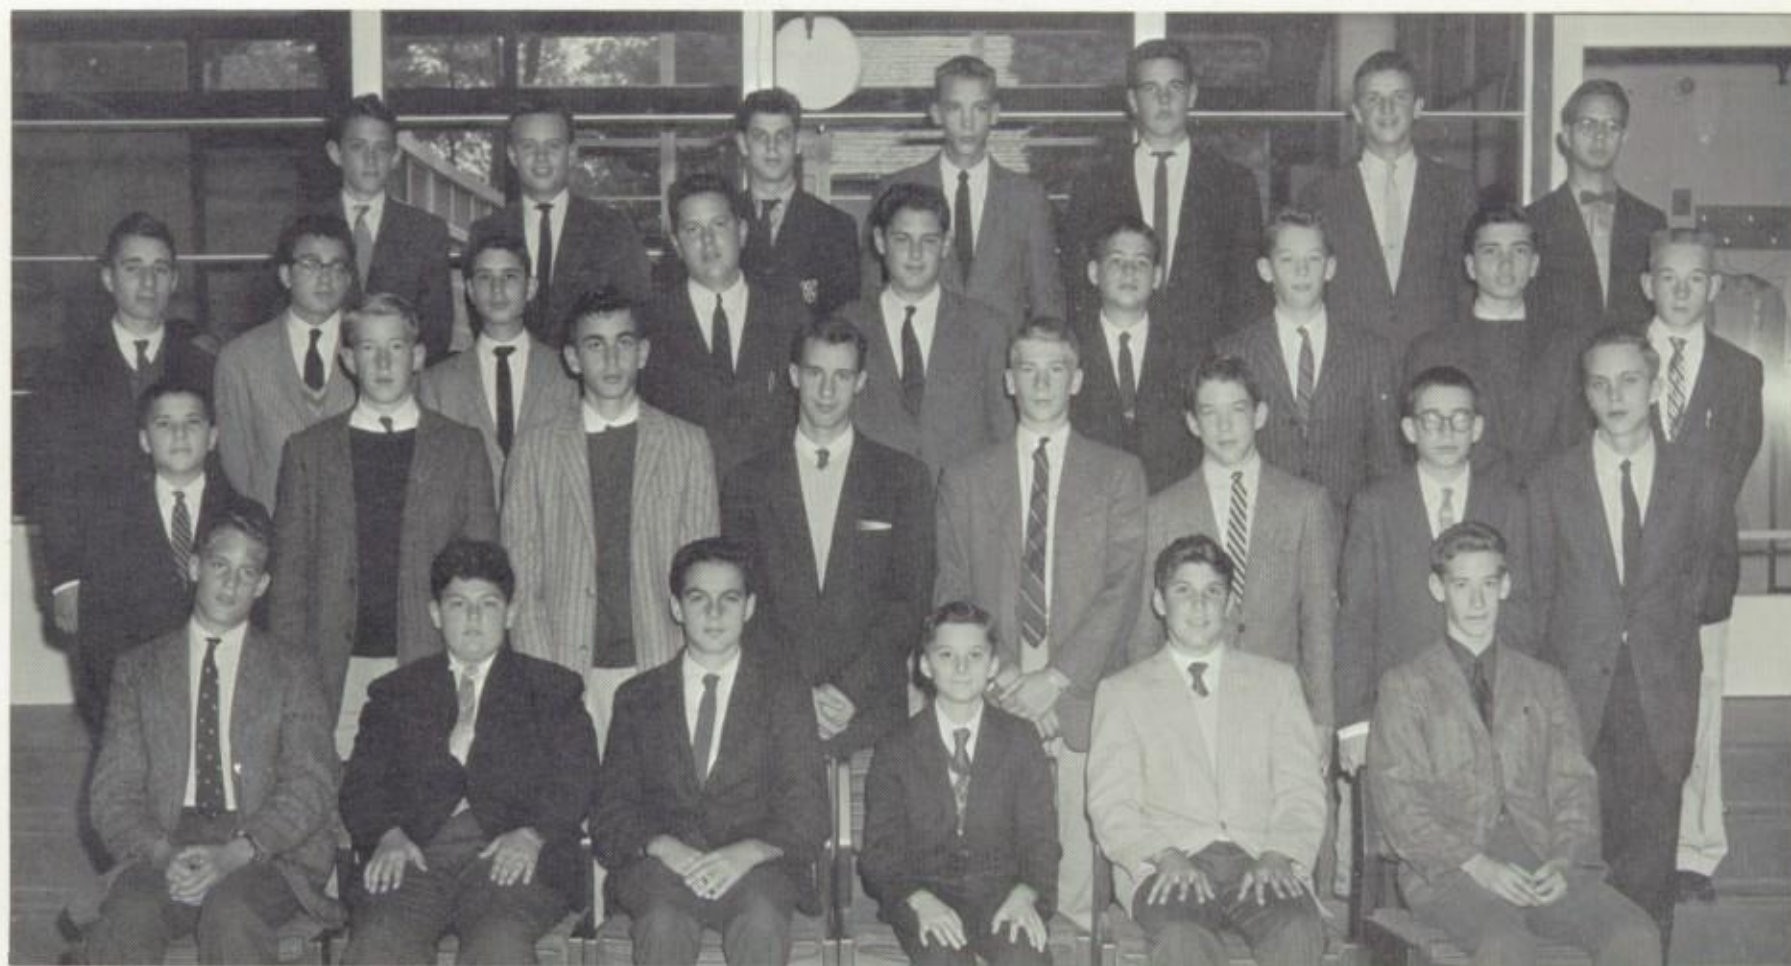

Our scholarship was excellent; indeed our class average was highest in the school. Mike Wang, Aaron Snyder, Dick Muller, and Paul Tukey continued to maintain high scholastic averages.

We were not limited to scholarship; Hun's athletic teams were well-supplied with sophomores. Gary Grover and Pete Savidge proved invaluable to the football team, with John Pitney and Howard Taylor also seeing varsity action. Bender Faisal remained a prominent figure on the soccer field. The wrestling team was dominated by our class, with seven of eleven positions held by sophomores. Jim Byer, Louis Costas, Charley LeFebure, Bruce Kantner, and the Savidges were but a few of our contributions to the athletic teams.

We also contributed to all the various extra-curricular activities, such as the MALL, EDGERSTOUNIAN, Glee Club, and others. The Chess Team had Guy Frindell, Dick Muller, and Bob Whaley as regulars, with Pete Spiller and Louis Costas substituting occasionally.

Reviewing our success of the past year, it appears that Hun will have a fine Junior Class next year. To insure this, we shall maintain standards of hard work and extracurricular achievement.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

As a class the school year began for us with elections. Lou Hirsh was elected president because of his sound judgment and ability. Later the class elected Eduardo Lopez vice-president.

As the year progressed, Freshmen joined in many sports. In the Fall, some of us were dominant in Intramurals, but others, such as Harvey Jacob, Don Sieja, Myron Easton, and Dave Penrose, were future prospects for the Varsity Football Team. Bruce Hendler, Steve Oppenheim, and Steve Goldsmith played J.V. Soccer. Others still participated in Fall Tennis. The Freshmen were out in force for Winter athletics. Some of us were down at the "Y" pool swimming and diving, while others went fencing, wrestling, or played basketball at the gym.

Freshmen were also situated in other activities. A few were on the Mall staff, and Bruce Hendler was Art Editor and Copy Editor of the Edgerstounian while others contributed pictures and articles to the yearbook. Other Freshmen, who were not so literary, preferred the Glee Club or the Chess Club.

The class placed two students on the Honor Roll. They were Lou Hirsh and George Johnson. A few had near-Honor averages.

If expectations hold out, the freshmen, who possess a great potential, should develop into a strong and influential class in years to come.

Hun's diamond nine racked up a winning season behind the pitching of Jay Maynell and Smokey Black, and with the help of good belting by Paul Savidge, Bill Gilman, Gary Grover, and Lou D'Ambrosio. The Raiders took most of their home games and suffered most of their defeats away. But even the losses were mostly by a single run. Coach Squier Ball had reason to be satisfied.

An easy victory over Bryn Athyn opened the season. It took a loss at the hands of the George School — the most decisive loss of the season — to open our eyes. We dropped a close one next to Tower Hill, rallying in the last inning to bring the score up to 10—9. At home again we overpowered Germantown behind the two-hit pitching of Black, but in another close one, big Delbarton set us back 5—4. Next came impressive wins over Pennington and Solebury, with a return visit victory over Bryn Athyn to make it three in a row. Fred Andrew exhibited his old mound fire in that one. We had to sustain a loss to Peddie, a close one but unexpected against a weak team. Revenge against Delbarton before our dance weekend visitors and a 3—1 victory over Pingry climaxed the successful season, but were followed by losses to Admiral Farragut and Solebury.

This year's crew proved itself one of the outstanding in recent years. In regular season dual competition it compiled a perfect record — 5 to 0. For the first time in ten years it won the W.E. Garrett Gilmore trophy. At Philadelphia it placed third among championship eight-oared shells in the Stotesbury Regatta. And in the Nationals, held on Lake Carnegie, it took second place, giving a run for its money to one of the finest schoolboy eights in the country.

Practice began, as usual, as soon as the ice was off the lake. Determination was high, even if prospects seemed slim, for the last time Hun had played host to the National Regatta, a Hun eight had won it and gone on to Henley. Eager to get into form quickly, the varsity boat led by Captain Ross Speir, its stroke, gave up half its spring vacation for early practice. In a pre-season triangular meet hopes for a winning year looked dismal as we lost to the Princeton freshmen (Coach Peter Sparhawk's other charges) and to top-seeded Washington and Lee High School as well. But the first boat shaped up quickly for its first official test against St. Andrew's. Three veteran seniors — Steve Katz, Pete Clark, and Don Williams — provided a backbone; sophomores Tom Watkins and Jim Byer contributed valuable experience; newcomer Harland Johnson, a junior, joined later by sophomore John Pitney, gave the strength and weight needed for a previously light boat. Later still Sophomore Jim Steiger added lanky youthfulness to a well-balanced crew. Steve Rose, another newcomer, was coxwain throughout.

Against St. Andrew's we set a fast pace, winning in 5:16. Three days later we faced formidable Lower Merion and Harriton High Schools, winning handily by eleven seconds and copping the Gilmore trophy. Taking the Spirit of '59 down to Alexandria, Virginia, we edged powerful Francis Hammond High School on its home water, the Potomac, for the first time ever.

The following Friday we invaded the Schuylkill river in Philadelphia, qualifying for the Stotesbury Regatta with the second fastest time of the day. On Saturday, however, favored Washington and Lee pulled ahead of us, and we were edged for second place by a hot eight from Monsignor Bonner High School, a Philadelphia crew we had the satisfaction of seeing beaten later. It was a disappointment not only for the crew but for a busload of red rooters who had taken the trip to see Hun win.

By Spring Dance weekend, the sea-going nine was up again for its final duel. It beat Belleville High School with two lengths of open water to complete a fine regular season.

Speir, Mr. Inglesby (assistant coach). KNEELING, S. Rose.

Not for ten years had the American Championships, the so-called "Nationals," been rowed on Lake Carnegie. Not for ten years had Hun copped the blue ribbon. Our varsity eight doubled its practices, getting up with Assistant Coach C. Allan Inglesby at 5 a.m. for an early morning run down to the dam and back. Entered with last year's champions, Washington and Lee, were fourteen other championship shells from as far north as St. Catherine's, Ontario, and as far west as Allen Park, Michigan. Qualifiers on Friday, May 27, were St. Catherine's, Francis Hammond, Blessed Sacrament High School of New Rochelle, Washington and Lee, and Hun. Our time, 5:05, was the best of the day.

Saturday was Alumni Day at Hun. As they had two weeks before, Prom Weekend, many students spent the afternoon at the lake. Hun's second boat, which had barely qualified on Friday with its best time of the year, 5:25, was outclassed in choppy water by more experienced crews. Our championship eight got off to a good start, pacing the powerful W and L crew for the first quarter mile. Gradually, the boys from the huge Virginia high school forged ahead, showing the eclat they had developed over three years of rowing together. As Hun saw the victory and a shot at the Henley crown in England slipping away, it sprinted to outpoint hotly contending St. Catherine's. In taking second place, we beat a previously undefeated boat by six tenths of a second. W and L's winning time was 5:08 for the mile. Ours was 5:14.

In spirit, drive, and performance, Hun's 1960 crew lived up to the tradition this sport has established here. For 1961 Coaches Sparhawk and Inglesby look forward to a promising season. Seven of the nine men who rode the Spirit of '59 down the Olympic course on Carnegie will be back led by Ross Speir, who was re-elected captain. And there are hopefuls from the second boat, led by stroke Peter Spiller, vying for the empty berths. Look out, W and L!

J.V. Crew

Our JV's formed Hun's second boat, stroked by Pete Spiller and coxed by George Vargish. It found itself manned largely by greenhorns fresh out of the barge, and each time it looked good, it found itself robbed by the varsity boat. It raced St. Andrew's, Francis Hammond, and Nutley, losing to all three. It paced the No. 1 boat in practice (with handicap) and always lost. Despite all, it worked out with a will and raced with spirit. It hardened a corps of veterans to fill the gaps next year. And without a senior aboard, it should be back to a man.

Lacrosse

Confident of returning veteran players and after two seasons of building, Lacrosse Coach Hawley Waterman predicted that the 1960 Hun stickmen would be "contenders." But pre-season factors including athletic ineligibility and drop-outs pared the original promising sixty man squad to twenty-two. Of these only two wore letters. It looked like another shut-out season. But nobody gave up. The remaining red raiders really wanted to play lacrosse and Coach Waterman was tireless in rebuilding a team. The result was Hun's most successful season since lacrosse was introduced.

As expected, our green players lost to their initial opposition, dropping three in a row, first to the Maplewood Lacrosse Club (3 to 13), then by only one point to Lawrenceville and to Scarsdale Lacrosse Club. In the fourth game we romped over Peddie, 8 to 1. Then we dropped two, our first league tilts of the season, bowing to Lawrenceville and to Scarsdale Lacrosse Club. In the fourth game we romped over Peddie, 8 to 1. Then we dropped two, our first league tilts of the season, bowing to Peekskill and to Brooklyn Poly Prep. But a decisive win over Rutgers' freshman "B" team raised Red spirits. After losing to Pingry, we edged N.Y.M.A. as the high point of the year and again beat Peddie before losing a fiery scrap to the Princeton Freshman "B" team, and conceding a hard-fought game to powerful Lawrenceville. High scorer for the season was Captain John Keffer with 15 goals and 5 assists. It was a team effort all the way, with prospects for a winning season in 1961.

Wickes returns.

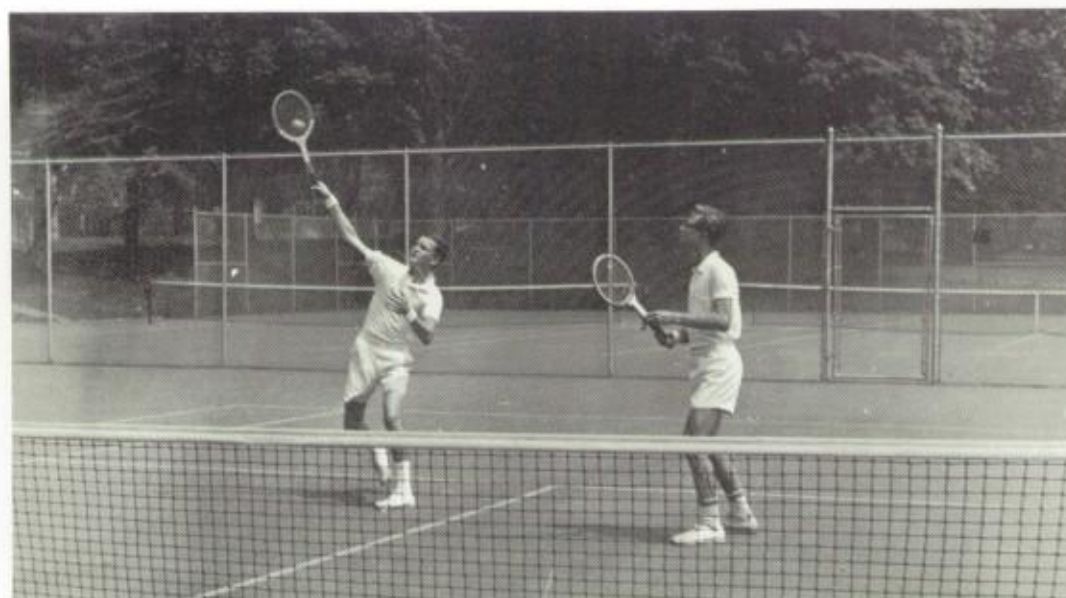

Prospects for a good tennis season this year were happily confirmed as the Hun racqueteers baptised our new all-weather courts and pleased our new coach, Mr. Sidney Gorham, with a winning season and a fine showing in the state tournament. It was our best record for tennis in years.

In the opener against Delbarton, Rod Vetterlein and Dave Ditmars, both newcomers, led the Red to a 3—2 victory. A loss to Peddie, 3—6, took the edge off our confidence, whetted our desire, and was followed by a satisfactory 8—1 win over B.M.I.

The next week, although Vetterlein and Ditmars, playing 1 and 2, won their singles, we bowed to St. Andrew's, 3—6. This was followed by a humiliating shut-out at the hands of the George School. But with a 2—3 record behind them, the Raiders staged a comeback, taking 3 of the remaining 4 matches, two of them without the loss of a point. Delbarton fell before our racquets, 4—1. Pennington and Bryn Athyn were shut out. Our one loss was at the hands of the Lawrenceville J.V.'s. In the George School Tournament we took all four consolation finals.

Ending a 5—4 season, we went into the state tournament at Lawrenceville with slim hopes. Individually, we were not spectacular, but our team average ranked us 2nd for a satisfactory ring-down of the season's curtain.

Next year Captain Vetterlein and Coach Gorham can hope for another winning season. Although seniors Dave Ditmars, John Wickes, and Gus Biddle will not be back, we have the nucleus for a strong varsity in Gary Rottenberg, Tim Cook, Marc Efron, and Ken Agle. Tennis, anyone?
